

Musana Summer Internship Application 2019

Musana's internship program is a unique opportunity for students, young professionals, or anyone with a hunger to learn from the amazing people of Uganda! Utilizing Musana's development model, this internship program provides the chance to see what our values of local ownership, social entrepreneurship, sustainability, and accountability look like in practice in a community like Iganga, Uganda. Musana's incredible Ugandan leadership is daily taking strides towards transforming their community, breaking the dependency mindset and teaching the community to BE their own catalysts for change. Our interns work alongside our local leaders and staff to experience and learn from them!

With less emphasis on task-oriented projects, this internship program focuses more on cultural emersion, building relationships, and exposure to the greatest social issues in Uganda. Our interns automatically build on their own skills and talents by engaging with different perspectives and approaches...possibly finding their own ideas transform!

Past interns have come from various backgrounds in areas that include education, public health, occupational therapy, dentistry, social work, communications, finance, and art. With very different professional paths, they had one common interest - a desire to listen and learn from local initiative!

The goals for this program include, but are not limited to:

- ✓ Immersing you in Musana's community development program, established in Iganga, Uganda.
- ✓ Utilizing your strengths to continue and improve Musana's service within the community.
- ✓ Building upon our opportunity to provide continued and potentially new self-sustainability projects within our organization.
- ✓ An opportunity to grow personally, mentally, interpersonally and spiritually as you serve in a foreign environment
- ✓ Inspiring you to live a life of service and love, regardless of whether you serve on local or foreign soil.

THINGS YOU SHOULD KNOW BEFORE APPLYING:

- Extremely open-minded and accepting of different ways of doing things even though it may not be how you see things and/or would do things.
- PATIENT-no matter what, but especially when things don't happen how and when you would like.
- Willing to brainstorm and implement ideas in a way that respects the people, staff, and culture of which you are living and working.
- Capable of adapting to situations that may feel uncomfortable (Situations may challenge you spiritually, physically, and or emotionally.)
- Comfortable being different from the rest of the community. As a foreigner, you may be prone to being stared at, laughed at, and possibly harassed (especially as a female).
- Self-motivated to implement ideas and not give up despite the obstacles that may arise.
- Adaptable to the change of climate and diet, and able to stay positive even though you may be tired and hot.
- Strong and patient when faced with corruption, being cheated, manipulated or treated unfairly.
- Respectful of the culture, including refraining from behaviors that may be normal at home but seen as offensive in Uganda (walking while eating, ignoring people you pass by, or flirting carelessly).
- The internship program costs $6000 for the entire summer. This includes round-trip airfare, host home stay/meals. Interns are encouraged to plan for additional expenses, like local transportation, cell phone coverage, in-country Internet, entertainment, meals at Sol View, other snacks, and any weekend travel experiences (like hiking Sipi Falls or trips to Jinga.)

Please consider each expectation carefully before signing; making sure you fully agree with each line item. Have questions? Contact us at 303-604-3798.
